
Discover your strengths

Not sure which specialization to choose, where to head after graduation, or which career roles best match your potential? Take advantage of the career and personality assessment designed for Charles University students.

Using professional assessment tools, you will discover your talents, motivations, and areas where you can reach your full potential. A career coach will then guide you through the results and help you explore possible directions for your further studies and career.

- Available to Charles University students and applicants who have submitted an application
- Professional interpretation of results
- Practical recommendations for your studies and career

Consultations take place at the UK Point Counselling Centre according to available capacity. You will always find the exact address in the booking portal. The service is intended for self-paying clients and is not covered by the university budget.

The professional assessment is provided by:

Mgr. Lenka Muroňová Gallup-Certified Strengths Coach, ICF-Associate Certified Coach (ACC)

I am a Gallup-Certified Strengths Coach with many years of experience. For several years, I have also worked with university students, helping them discover their strengths, develop their potential, and clarify their future study and career direction.

As a career coach at a university counselling and career centre, I provide individual consultations and lead workshops focused on strengths. I also contribute to teaching a career development seminar.

Understanding my own strengths was an important turning point in my professional journey, and I am happy to help others find a direction in which they can make the most of what they enjoy and what comes naturally to them.

Mgr. Denisa Stáncová Gallup-Certified Strengths Coach, Career Counsellor at Charles University

I am an HR professional and a "heart person". I enjoy supporting students on their journey towards excellence or simply helping them make the right decisions and move closer to their goals. I work with their talents, personality and career potential, interests and needs. I use positive motivation to support students as they take their first steps in their professional careers and later as they plan their further professional development.

I hold a Master's degree in Adult Education and Human Resources Management from Charles University. I am a certified coach and trainer with many years of professional experience. Throughout my career, I have focused primarily on career counselling and talent identification, as well as people development, education, coaching and talent management. I spent almost 10 years working in HR management in corporate organisations and founded the HR and training agency Career Partner, s.r.o. I collaborate with many multinational companies and have a strong understanding of their needs and expectations, as well as the current labour market.
